3. Curriculum intent

Pupils' learning and development is at the heart of our school's curriculum; it is broad and balanced and equips pupils with the skills necessary to succeed in life after school.

This curriculum intent statement outlines how the school has created the curriculum and the benefits it will bring to pupils' learning and self-improvement.

Curriculum intent

At Flimby Primary School we want our pupils to be confident, resilient, independent and inquisitive learners who develop an understanding of the world - past, present and future – and how they can have an impact on change.

We want children to learn and remember. We recognise that progress means knowing more and remembering more so our subject-specific curriculum is designed to be cumulative and fulfils the requirements of the National Curriculum.

At Flimby Primary School we are values driven and our curriculum is built upon those values:

RESPECT – for ourselves, our families and our communities

PRIDE – pride in our own achievements and those of other people

BRAVERY- the bravery to try new challenges even though they may be difficult

SUCCESS – the belief that, with enough effort, anything is achievable

We believe that all children are entitled to an education rich in wonder and full of memorable experiences; one that allows their creativity and curiosity to flourish, alongside the purposeful acquisition of knowledge and skills. We believe that with a deep-rooted, well-rounded curriculum, our children will flourish and grow to become ambitious, capable citizens with a life-long love of learning and strong self-belief, giving them the tools to become global citizens in an ever-changing world.

Extra-curricular activities: We provide a variety of extra-curricular activities for pupils that enhance their learning experience, form personal connections with their peers, and teach skills essential for life after school.

4. School ethos and aims

The overall aims of the curriculum are to:

- Enable all pupils to understand that they are all successful learners.
- Enable pupils to understand the skills and attributes needed to be a successful learner.
- Enable pupils to develop their own personal interests and develop a positive attitude towards learning, so that they enjoy coming to school, and acquire a solid basis for lifelong learning.
- Teach pupils the basic skills of literacy, numeracy, ICT and science.
- Enable pupils to be creative through art, dance, music, drama and design and technology.
- Enable pupils to be healthy individuals and appreciate the importance of a healthy lifestyle.
- Teach pupils about their developing world, including how their environment and society have changed over time.

- Help pupils understand the fundamental British values, and enable them to be positive citizens in society who can make a difference.
- Fulfil all the requirements of the national curriculum and the locally agreed syllabus for RE.
- Teach pupils to have an awareness of their own spiritual development, and to understand right from wrong.
- Help pupils understand the importance of truth and fairness, so that they grow up committed to equal opportunities for all.
- Enable pupils to have respect for themselves and high self-esteem, and to be able to live and work co-operatively with others.
- Enable pupils to be passionate about what they believe in and to develop their own thoughts on different topics.
- Enable pupils to develop their intellect including their emotional development, ask questions and take appropriate risks.
- Enable pupils to experience playing a musical instrument.
- Teach pupils about the importance of forming healthy relationships with friends, family and peers.

Through the aims outlined above, pupils will benefit by:

- Learning how to lead safe, healthy and fulfilling lives.
- Understanding that failure is part of the road to success.
- Being rewarded for academic successes.
- Being supported with their next stages in education and feeling prepared for life after school.
- Becoming responsible individuals who contribute to community living and the environment.
- Achieving to the best of their ability.
- Acquiring a wealth of knowledge and experience.
- Becoming critical thinkers.
- Finding a sense of belonging to the school and its community.
- Learning how to cooperate with their peers and respect one another inside and outside the classroom.

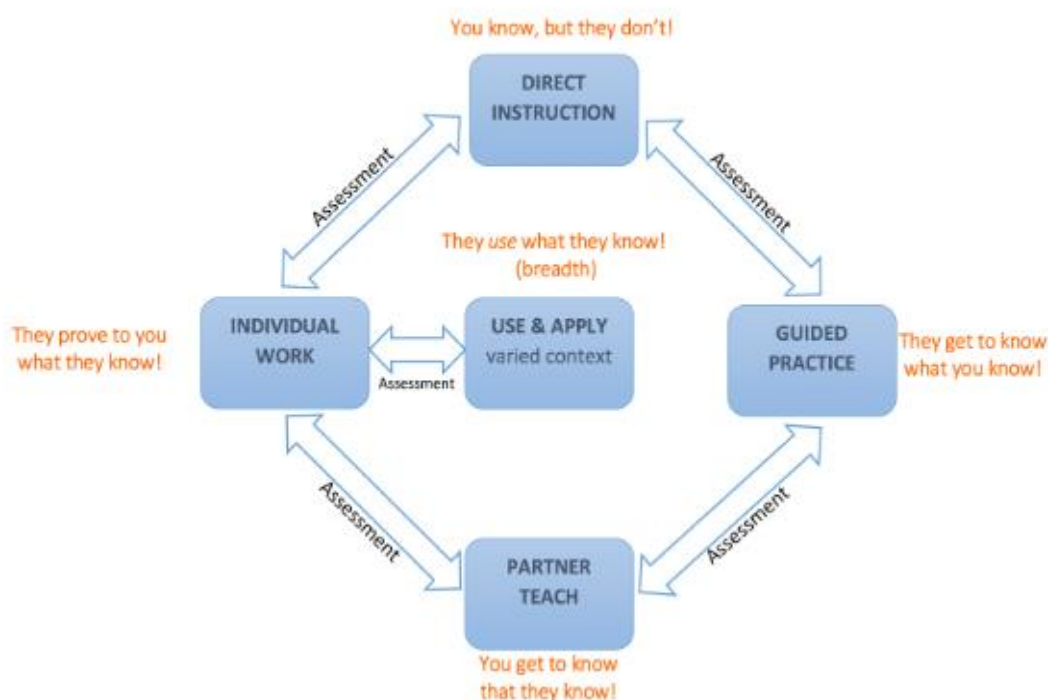

5. Organisation and planning

Each school day will be split into two sessions and pupils will receive a morning break and lunchtime with a break.

In general, lessons will be separated into stages:

- Direct Instruction – activating prior knowledge and teaching new learning
- Guided Practice - teachers verbalise their metacognitive thinking and scaffold tasks.
- Partner Teach
- Individual Work / Use and Apply
- Plenary

TEACHING CYCLE for a mastery approach

The cycle consists of Direct Instruction, Guided Practice and Partner Teaching, with Partner Work embedded throughout. These phases are interactive with high levels of participation, especially choral speaking to embed mathematical vocabulary for successful reasoning. Lessons will use a range of teaching techniques to appeal to different learning types, e.g. visual, audio and kinaesthetic.

The cycle is fully flexible; it respects teacher judgement as to when to move on or back. Teachers are responsive to each class's individual needs progressing towards learning outcomes.

Further Independent work for practice demonstrates learning is secure; this is followed by Using and Applying including problem solving in real-life contexts for breadth.

During Direct Instruction, teachers use big teaching to teach a new concept or idea to the class. During Guided Practice, the children practise what they have been taught under careful guidance from their teacher. Partner teaching is a proven technique that works on the premise that the best way to understand if you really understand something is to try and explain it to somebody else. Children teach each other what they have learned and, in this way, they consolidate and deepen their own understanding.

Assessment is at the heart of this cycle; teachers carefully monitor and assist children where necessary and use assessment information to inform all planning.

The different learning techniques include:

- Using different kinds of questions to engage pupils and prompt them to apply their knowledge to different examples, e.g. using 'why' and 'how' questions.
- Opening discussions around topics so pupils can learn from their peers and learn how to hold conversations with others.
- Holding structured debates to expose pupils to different points of view and teach them how to negotiate situations where there is a potential conflict of interest, whilst still respecting others' beliefs.
- Using assessments to test pupils' knowledge and consolidate learning; these can be through both informal and formal assessments.
- Role playing and acting to develop pupils' empathy and give them the opportunity to explore topics in a more interactive way.
- Labelling, ordering and identifying key themes within texts, dialogues and films to help pupils coordinate series' of events.
- Written and spoken tasks to encourage different methods of expressing ideas, as well as identifying key differences between writing and speaking conventions.

Teachers will plan lessons which are challenging for all pupils and ensure that there are provisions in place for more academically able pupils, e.g. completing additional work that is above the academic level of their peers.

Teachers will plan lessons to accommodate for pupils of mixed ability, making cross-curricular links where possible.

A full list of subjects covered in school can be found in section 7 of this policy.

Teachers will have due consideration for pupils who require additional help within their planning and organisation of lessons.

Disadvantaged pupils and those with SEND and EAL will receive additional support – this will include dedicated time with TAs and access to specialist resources and equipment where required.

TAs will be deployed within lessons strategically so that they can assist pupils.

Pupils with EAL will be given the opportunity to develop their English ability throughout lessons where necessary.

Planning will be used to identify any possible difficulties within the curriculum and will break down barriers to learning. Any difficulties identified will be addressed at the outset of work.

Classrooms will be organised so that pupils have full access to resources and equipment – they will be provided with a rich and varied learning environment that will enable them to develop their skills and abilities.

6. Remote learning

Attendance at school is mandatory for all pupils; however, there may be circumstances where in-person attendance is either not possible or contrary to government guidance.

The school's Remote Education Policy sets out how education will be delivered if pupils cannot attend school in person.

7. Subjects covered

The school will have due regard to the national curriculum at all times throughout the academic year.

The school will have due regard for the 'Statutory framework for the early years foundation stage'.

The school will ensure every pupil has access to the following core subjects:

Part of the national curriculum includes PSHE lessons where everyday topics, e.g. raising awareness of different cultures or anti-bullying, can be addressed. PSHE is delivered weekly.

8. Reporting and assessment

Formal assessments in maths and English will be carried out termly to measure pupil progress. The results of the assessments will be used to inform future planning and target setting. Results of informal assessments will be recorded and reported back to the headteacher, pupils and pupils' parents.

Pupils will also complete national assessments. The results of these assessments will be reported back to the headteacher, pupils and their parents.

Assessment of pupils with EAL will take into account the pupils age, length of time in UK, previous education and ability in other languages.

Special measures will be given to pupils who require them, e.g. pupils with SEND, pupils who are ill, or pupils who suffer from conditions that inhibit their academic performance.

Assessment for Learning is carried out in other subject areas, whereby knowledge gaps are identified and addressed.

9. Equal opportunities

Any pupil or teacher found to be discriminating against any of these characteristics will be disciplined in line with the relevant school policies.

The school will have due regard for the Pupil Equality, Equity, Diversity and Inclusion Policy at all times when planning and implementing the curriculum.

10. Supporting pupils with SEND

Pupils with SEND will receive the additional support they require both academically and with their personal development, in line with the school's SEND Policy.

Pupils with SEND will not be discriminated against in any way and they will have full access to the curriculum.

The progress of pupils with SEND will be monitored by teachers and reported to the SENCO. The SENCO will work closely with teachers to help them break down any barriers pupils with SEND have to education.

11. Extra-curricular activities

The school offers pupils a wide range of extra-curricular trips and activities to enhance their academic learning and personal development.

Extra-curricular trips and activities occur outside school hours and can include overnight stays.

All pupils are able to participate in the activities and trips available. Wherever there is an instance where a pupil cannot participate, the trip or activity will be adapted so that the pupil can take part.

12. Monitoring and review

This policy is reviewed annually by the headteacher and the governing board.

Any changes made to this policy will be communicated to all members of staff and relevant stakeholders.

The scheduled review date for this policy is July 2024.
